GAMES TO-DAY.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

Detroit, Mich., July 16 .- Just as Walter Johnson warmed up to the pleasant task of making the Tigers beat the air, a big rain started this afternoon. In fifteen minutes the park was flooded, and Umpire Jack Egan declared the doings off. The game will be played Sunday, starting at 1 p. m., so the athletes can hurry East on an early train. Johnson was showing the folks something to-day when the rain broke in. During the first in ning he fanned Davy Jones, Bush, and Cobb. Jones managed to make two fouls offerings that they stood idly by while the third strike floated over.

Manager James McAleer said to-day should have done. that he is done with appearing in unfhe said, "my throat grows sore and games behind McAleer's aggregation—in swells. There was a lot of regret on the part of the Nationals that to-day's game was not completed. Seldom has a pitcher been seen on the Detroit grounds with so much seen on the Detroit grounds with so much speed and such a sharp break to his fast value to the club has been his hitting.

POTOMAC CREWS HARD AT WORK ON RIVER BASIN

Junior Eight Shows Great Improvement.

MUELLER WILL FIGHT FOR CUP

weeks, but can say that I never saw such improvement in a lot of oarsmen. The Potomac senior eight shows fine progress, and the four-oared will be heard from. I am not making any predictions, but the other crews will know they have been in a race before the Potomacs get through with them."-Dick Glendon, coach of Potomac Boat Club crews.

As the time draws nearer for the greatest aquatic event of the season, the national regatta, which every oarsman and most everybody else knows will be held on the Potomac River course the 12th and 13th of August, a great deal of interest is being displayed. Each evening hundreds assemble along wharves or the Aqueduct bridge to witness the crews at practice,

The Potomac Boat Club eights are out every evening at 5:30, and according to Coach "Dick" Glendon they are making wonderful progress, especially the junior eight. This crew was an entirely green one at the first of the season, and have thus far done so well that Glendon is in hopes they will be able to finish the race in a prominent place, although at this date he is not making any rash predictions other than to say that rival crews will have to make fast time to win

Glendon Makes Change. A lot of changes have taken place in the club and finds out which combination will work together and also balance the boat the best. Several changes have taken place in the positions of the crew; a man that has had No. 2 oar will be changed to No. 7 or 8, just as the case may be. This has caused considerable talk among those who do not know the situation. Some claim favoritism is being shown, but this is not true. Coach Glendon wants to have the boat trimmed evenly and is distributing the men according to their weights, as it would hever to do to have all the heavy men in one end of the shell and the light-

The senior eight is showing great form on the rubber the visitors made four hits at the present time, but Glendon has excellent work until the seventh, when any better than those who ere already in the crew they will get their places, as Glendon is not playing any favorites, but is looking for the best material he Mathewson are bitter rivals on the dia- can find in the club, and, according to mond, and both have been mixed up in his view, there is plenty of it, and he many a hard fought battle against each intends to have a winning eight if such

> Club Four Shows Form. Another crew that is working hard with the others is the Potomac four, which is also showing up in good form, but which Glendon hopes to improve a great deal more before the day of the regatta. This crew is made up of four husky oarsmen, one of whom was re-Cently taken out of the senior eight, so that he would help to make it a winning crew. Coach Glendon thinks that the four will be greatly improved by placing on, p. 0 0 0 1 0 Wayne Hart in that shell.
